AAMI Taps Medical Specialties Distributors to Provide Expertise to Infusion and Medical Device Committees

Stoughton, MA – October 18, 2010 – The Association for the Advancement of Medical Instrumentation (AAMI) has asked Medical Specialties Distributors, LLC (MSD), the nation's leading provider of infusion products, supplies, biomedical services and technology to the home infusion market, to provide biomedical device expertise to two of its committees.

AAMI is known as the principal resource for professionals and government organizations for national and international standards for the effective development, use and safety of medical instruments and devices. Jim Milostan, director of equipment procurement and OEM development for MSD, will serve on AAMI's Committees for Infusion Devices, and Medical Devices and Systems in Home Care Applications. He has more than 25 years of experience in the biomedical device industry and has worked with MSD since 1996.

"We are honored to contribute our biomedical device expertise to AAMI," said Jim Beck, President and CEO of MSD. "Our goal is to support AAMI with building greater understanding of how the health industry can leverage advances in medical technology to achieve higher levels of patient safety in home care settings."

The Association for the Advancement of Medical Instrumentation (AAMI) is a nonprofit organization whose membership forms a unique alliance of more than 6,000 individuals united by the common goal of increasing the understanding and beneficial use of medical instrumentation.
